Domino's put "cardboard" complaints on national TV.

> About its own pizza.

Most companies bury feedback like that.

USUAL MOVE

Hide it, spin it, outspend it

DOMINO'S

Air it, then fix it

What customers said:

THE CRUST

"Like cardboard"

THE SAUCE

"Like ketchup"

They rebuilt the whole pizza.

New crust

New sauce

New cheese

Patrick Doyle, then running the U.S. business, fronted the ads.

> The campaign: "Pizza Turnaround."

U.S. same-store sales:

+14.3%

First quarter of 2010. Doyle called it "unprecedented."

"All of it."

Patrick Doyle, on the Q1 2010 results

Admitting the flaw was the marketing.

Your turnaround test:

1. Write the harshest true customer quote
2. Ship one fix for it
3. Then say so out loud
