Two brothers tried to corner the world's silver.

Then came Silver Thursday.

Early 1979: silver trades around

$6/oz

Early 1979

The Hunt brothers keep buying.

Physical silver

Futures contracts

Borrowed money

> Metal and futures. Much of it on borrowed money.

By Jan 1, 1980, reportedly about

195M oz

Reports differ

The price explodes.

Early 1979 approx.; Jan 18, 1980 London fix.

Then the exchange changes the rules.

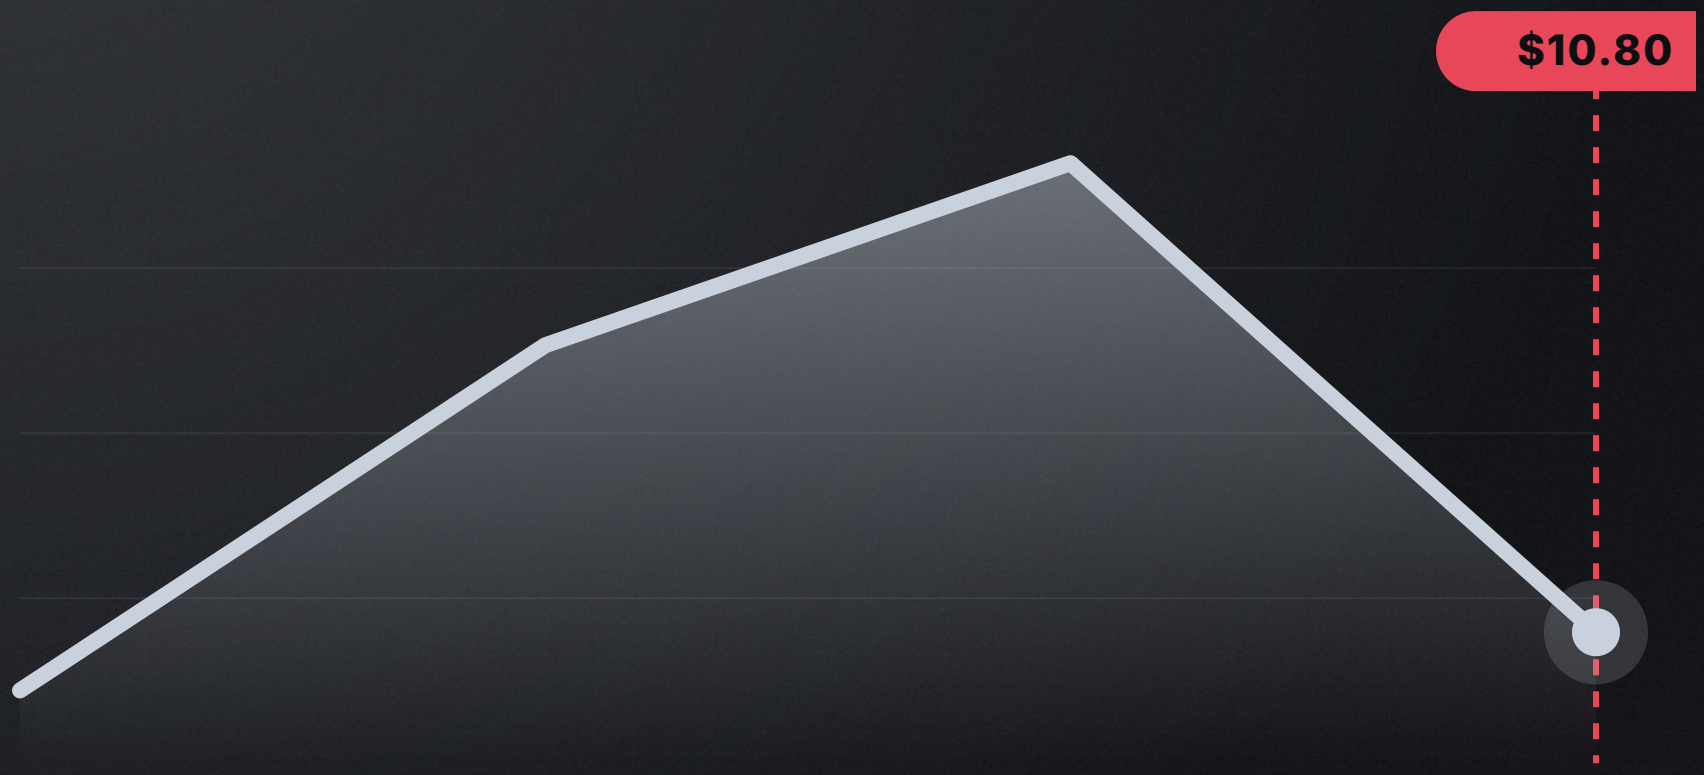

Jan 7 Position limits

Jan 21 Closing trades only

> The buying stops.

THE CRASH

7/10

Mar 27, 1980 close: half the day before.

March 27, 1980. Silver Thursday.

@bino_da_producer

Swipe →

13 banks lend the family's oil company

$1.1B

to contain the damage

1988: a jury finds them liable.

JAN 1980

$49.45 an ounce

SEPT 1988

Chapter 11

Bunker and Herbert file for bankruptcy.

YOUR RULE

10/10

Leverage turns a bad call into a wipeout.

1. Size every bet to survive being wrong
2. Never borrow to go all in on one thing
3. Decide your exit before you enter

@bino_da_producer

Save this ↓