Samsung engineers made 3 AI mistakes in 20 days.

> Then the company banned the tools.

3 leaks. 20 days.

> Nobody meant to leak anything.

Leak 1

🐞
Source code

📋
Pasted into ChatGPT

🔧
To find a bug fix

> An engineer pasted source code in to look for a fix.

Leak 2

🧪

Chip-defect test code

📋

Pasted in

⚡

"Optimize this"

> Another pasted code for a chip-defect test sequence and asked for optimization.

Leak 3

🎙️
Recorded meeting

📝
Transcribed

🤖
Fed in for minutes

> A recorded meeting was transcribed and fed in to produce minutes.

May 2023: Samsung temporarily banned generative AI on company devices.

> As reported by Bloomberg.

The real problem wasn't AI.

WHAT THEY THOUGHT

A smarter search box

WHAT IT WAS

Text leaving the building

> Nobody knew where the text goes after you hit enter.

The 3-question paste check

1. Would I email this to a stranger?
2. Does our AI policy cover this tool?
3. Can I strip names, numbers and code first?

Approved tools for sensitive work.

Public chatbots for public problems.