1790

Ben Franklin left £1,000 to two cities. With a 200-year timer.

@bino_da_producer

Swipe →

Lend it to young tradesmen at 5%.

🔨 Tradesmen

💷 Loans at 5%

🔁 Repay & relend

> Young married craftsmen who had served an apprenticeship could borrow and repay over ten years.

His projection after 100 years:

£131,000

each for Boston and Philadelphia

And after 200 years:

£4.06M

Franklin's own projection: £4,061,000 per city

Philadelphia, 1907: under a quarter of the plan.

$172,350

in Philadelphia's fund

1990: the 200-year result.

BOSTON

almost $5 million

PHILADELPHIA

about $2 million

Why so short? The world changed.

> The apprentice system his loans relied on faded away.

Compounding worked. The plan didn't keep up.

DO THIS

Your money plan, Franklin-proofed:

1. Automate the saving
2. Review it once a year
3. Update the plan when life changes

@bino_da_producer

Save this ↓